Cervical Cancer Prevention Webinars: Recent Progress and the Unfinished Agenda in Low and Middle-income Countries

Two options: Wednesday, September 6 or Thursday, September 14

Please join a panel of international experts for a 90-minute, animated discussion of the state-of-the-art of cervical cancer prevention in low-resource settings. These two webinars celebrate the publication of a new Supplement to the International Journal of Gynecology and Obstetrics.

The Supplement is available online for free.

Hosted by PATH, the content of both webinars is similar, though the speakers differ. Please choose which to attend based on your time zone.

The panelists will discuss:

- The burden of cervical cancer and rationale for increased investment
- Proven, powerful tools for prevention
- Progress in effective programming
- The unfinished agenda and priorities for actions

The presentations will be followed by an interactive Q&A session with webinar participants.

We also will organize French and Spanish language webinars on the same topics—please keep an eye out for those announcements.
